Well done to 6.3!

This week 6.3 have been studying children from different places in the world. They used google earth to investigate the various locations. They have considered both human and physical aspects that have had an impact on how their lives have been shaped. They have used empathy to consider how that might feel and whether these factors have played a part in the outcome of their future. 6.1 and 6.2 will have this brilliant experience in the next two weeks.
