Week Ending: Friday 16th October 2020

Let's All Wear It Pink!

Next Friday we are joining in with Big Pink, a charity event for which anyone can choose to wear pink to school. If your daughter wishes to participate, she will need to bring £1 as her charity donation, and there will also be an opportunity to purchase pink refreshments: 50p for a drink and snack. Please note that ONLY pink clothing OR school uniform should be worn - no other colours. If your daughter has only one item of pink clothing, the rest of her outfit must consist of school colours, e.g. black leggings under a pink dress. If your daughter is unsure about this, she can check with her teacher.

In addition to that, some science educational video links were attached for the girls to watch and prepare themselves for their science Assessment on our 'Out of this World Topic' - which is planned for next week.

Music this week...

As part of Black History Month we have been studying music of Black Origin (MOBO). A famous Black composer, Samuel Coleridge Taylor, lived very close to us in South Norwood at the beginning of the 20th Century. He was very famous and was the first black composer to be admitted into the White House when he travelled to America. We have been listening to a beautiful piece of music he composed called 'Deep River'. It is based on a spiritual song of great longing and a desire for freedom and change. We discussed the emotions, rhythm, melody and the theme of freedom we felt while listening to his music and using our own instruments, we composed and wrote lyrics to our own pieces of music based on 'Deep River'.
