Music and Computing—The Garage band project

As part of our Topic; 'Has there ever been a better time to live?' We have looked at dance music from two historical periods, the first one being that of the Waltz and the second The Charleston! We listened to a version of both of these and thought about the historical periods they were from. We then considered the tempo, dynamics, harmony and timbre and thought about how these impact the composition. We then used the smart instruments on garage band to create our own versions of these iconic musical sounds.
