

Winterbourne Junior Girls' School

Year 6 Newsletter Week ending: Friday 18th January 2019

Bar Modelling:

Over this half term the pupils will be deepening their understanding and use of bar models to answer reasoning problems. This method enables mathematical problems to be broken down and simplified. If you are interested in finding out more about bar models, then please look at the youtube video that introduces the concept:

$$3a + 2 = 2a + 8$$

Calculate the value of a.

With bar model.

a	a	a	2
a	a	8

Not to scale.

Switch off Prejudice—The Anne Frank Trust

Anne Frank

The Anne Frank Trust UK

The girls had the wonderful experience this week of taking part in workshops which aimed to provide an in-depth insight into the dangers of prejudice and discrimination. They looked at examples from the real world and online and took part in activities throughout the day. They considered different forms of prejudice and discrimination, where they stem from and the impact such attitudes and behaviours have on those subjected to them.

Students also explored how Nazi propaganda influenced public opinion and examined modern day examples of propaganda seen online. Pupils were invited to discuss the impact of witnessing and experiencing hate speech online, they explored the risks of social media and its responsible use for positive causes.

6.2 Class Assembly is on Tuesday 22nd January 2019 at 9.10am We would love to see as many parents, carers and families as possible.
