Hard Work

Winterbourne Junior Girls' School

Year 3 Newsletter 26 Week ending: Friday, 29 March 2019

Earth Hour

Earth Hour takes place on Saturday, 30 March, from 20:30, when people across the globe will be switching off their lights for an hour to show that they care about the future of the planet. Why not turn off the TV and power down the devices, and sit down with a book? This would also be a great opportunity to discuss the issues which are affecting the planet, such as pollution and deforestation, and which link to Science, Geography and PSHE.

Last year over 10 million people across the UK took part to send a clear message: we're fighting for our world. From the Sydney Opera House and the Empire State Building to Buckingham Palace and Edinburgh Castle, communities like ours switched off their lights in a symbolic show of support. And you can switch off too. Join the global movement this Earth Hour – switch off your lights and be part of the change. Visit www.wwf.org.uk/earthhour for more information on this event.
