Week Ending: Friday 29th March 2019

Wishing everyone a Happy Mothers Day
this Sunday

Hope you have a restful day

Help the Planet

Earth Hour takes place on Saturday, 30th March, from 8.30AM, when people across the globe will be switching off their lights for an hour to show that they care about the future of the planet.

Why not turn off the TV and power down the devices, and sit down with a book? This would also be a great opportunity to discuss the issues which are affecting the planet, such as pollution and deforestation—which link to Science, Geography and PSHE.
