Responsibility

Winterbourne Junior Girls'

Year 6 Newsletter Week ending: Friday 5th June

It's wonderful to see the girls coming back to school and we are very much enjoying the opportunities to take part in extra PE and creative activities such as painting and our exciting Harry Potter writing project.

The girls have settled well into our new routines and the staggered timings are going smoothly—thank you to parents and carers for supporting our safe practice as we start to return to a more normal way of life.

Google Classroom

During our deep-clean on Friday, all girls are expected to complete and turn in the work set on the Google Classroom. If your daughter is not currently at school she will need to continue with this work each day from home—expect a phone call if we do not see the work being turned in.

Thank you for travelling light!

We are delighted to see that the girls are on board with our new policy of leaving unnecessary items at home. Please ensure that your daughter is not moving possessions between home and school, as we are limiting exposure to shared surfaces in order to reduce contamination and streamline cleaning routines.

Take One Picture

This week we have been using paint to produce our own version of a painting by Paul Klee—lots of colour mixing with a limited palette.

In Maths we have explored the use of BODMAS to solve calculations containing different operations. We have applied this to problem solving too!
