This Week...

The girls have been great at writing chronological reports about the Ancient Egyptian mummification process. They have had been working hard to edit their work and practice the If, if, if, then Alan Peat sentences.

In Maths, the girls have been consolidating column method for addition and subtraction with regrouping. They were also introduced to bar models and word problems this week. We will be starting multiplication next week. Please help your daughter practice her timetables at home.

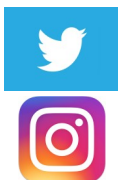

The girls are looking forward to showing their adults the lovely work they have been doing at Parent's Evening next week!
