This week's Learning

Pupils started their week with a series of innovating and scientific sessions. They participated in four different investigations throughout the day.

In Computing, they have used their researching skills to find information about spiders to support their writing in English lesson.

In English, the pupils started learning about Non-Chronological Reporting. They transferred their 'spiders' research to write an engaging introduction. They will continue their report next week.

During Maths lesson, the pupils learnt how to convert and simplify mixed fraction. Developing further their understanding of fractions.
