This week...

It's Children Mental Health Week this week! This year's theme is growing together so we have been talking to children and encouraging them to reflect upon how they have grown and how they can help others to grow. One of the activities we did this week was to draw a support balloon naming the different people that support us in our life. Please see pictures below of two support balloons made by our girls.

Mental Health is extremely important as it can affect academic learning. It affects how we think, feel, and act. It also helps determine how we handle stress, relate to others, and make choices. Mental health is important at every stage of life, from childhood through adulthood. Mental Health is ensuring your thinking and emotions are balanced, healthy and happy.

Daffodils!

After half term we will be entering a competition for the daffodils. Please ensure your daughter brings her daffodil to school on Monday or Tuesday 21st or 22nd of February 2022. We will have a special judge choosing the best grown daffodils! Even if your child's daffodils haven't grown well please bring them back for a certificate.

Have a look at Google Classroom for things to do! Encourage your girls to log in to My On for lots of reading and quizzes.

Please complete the nature themed bingo. There's lots of fun activities to do in the half term holidays! If you can, please take pictures and print them off so the girls can share with their peers.
