Winterbourne Junior Girls' School Year 6 Newsletter 38 Week ending: Friday, 15 July 2022

This Week

Activity: What is the process for turning ears of wheat into bread?

The girls first examined the ears of wheat and discussed the course and sharp texture. They then rubbed the wheat ears between the palms of their hands and identified the grains that had separated from the ear. They then removed the outer layers – called 'chaff'.

The next task involved turning the grains into flour. They accomplished this by crushing the grains of wheat with a pestle and mortar.

After exploring the texture of the flour, they added water and mixed it with their fingers to make dough.

Bread is the result of baking the dough.
