Another productive week for Year 3!

English: The girls used virtual reality headsets to visit the Pyramids of Giza in the Sahara Desert, in Egypt. This was an opportunity for the girls to imagine what it would be like in the desert and see how big the pyramids actually are. They were also able to compare the difference of landscapes between England and Egypt. This helped spark their imagination when writing their short stories called "A wander in the pyramid". The VR headsets also helped them have a better understanding of where Egypt is in the world.

Art:

The girls learnt about Celtic art this week. Celtic art was created by the Celts who lived in Europe during the Iron Age (800 BC-AD). They also applied their newly learnt shading techniques when drawing their Celtic knots.
