Egyptian Day!

The girls gained an insight into the Ancient Egyptian civilisation by exploring a tomb and discovering a range of artefacts from the time period. They also learnt about their written language, hieroglyphics and had a chance to write their name and key words. The girls thoroughly enjoyed learning about a special artist called Bridget Riley, who after her visit to the Valley of the Kings in Egypt, created an Egyptian palette and patterns using stripes. They then created a death mask inspired by the works of Bridget Riley.

Anti Bullying Week:

This week was all about expressing yourself and celebrating differences. In our P4C (philosophy for children) assembly, the girls explored different definitions for kindness.

We also explored the Winterbourne Junior Girls School's anti bullying leaflet which was made by the school councillors. They presented this to the class and asked questions about it.
