This Week...

English

On Monday, we started reading Charlie and the Chocolate Factory. We then used ambitious vocabulary to describe Charlie's character. After this, we planned and wrote a monologue from Charlie's point of view.

Mathematics

We examined techniques for multiplying and dividing by 6, 11 and 12.

History, Geography and Science
We started our topic on Should we stop eating Chocolate?

The girls recorded what they know about chocolate and what they would like to find out. We explored the key vocabulary for this unit and identified what we will be looking at this half-term. This topic links science, history, geography, and design and technology together.

What do these symbols mean to you?
