

Mrs Berkeley-Agyepong – HEADTEACHER

I have been the headteacher at Winterbourne Junior Girls' School since September 2014. It is a pleasure to work in partnership with the staff team, the parents and the governing body - who provide challenge and support to ensure high expectations and outcomes for all - but most importantly the pupils.

I have been a qualified teacher for 32 years. Moving from classroom teacher to senior leader, then from Deputy Headteacher to Headteacher during that time.

I have a BA, PGCE, SENCO Award, a Masters in Education Leadership and an OLY (which means I am an Olympian) and I am currently completing an NPQEL.

I am a Baton Award winner for service to Education 2022, promoting diversity and striving for equity and justice for my students.

During my headship I have moved my school from being bottom of the pile to one of the best in my area for academic success. Academic success is only one string to our bow at WJGS, as I ensure that we offer our students a full and rounded education.

I am a mother of five who has a love of learning and once a commitment is made, I dedicate my efforts to accomplishing it. My commitment is to the advancement of the girls at Winterbourne Junior Girls' School.

I am proud to say I have an experienced and knowledgeable staff who give of their best daily.

I believe wholeheartedly in our school ethos of 'Aspirations, Expectations, No Excuses – VINCAM – Together WE Conquer, which I strive to live up to every day.
