This Week...

English

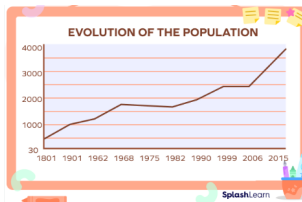

Charlotte's Web

The girls wrote a diary entry from Fern's perspective about the morning when she met Wilbur. They then described how Fern chased after her father in an attempt to take the axe from him. She pleaded with him not to kill the piglet and eventually he agreed to spare it.

Mathematics

The girls have started working on line graphs and have learnt that line graphs can also show trends over time.

History

We started looking at why we speak English. We listened to how the King speaks English and words that our grandparents wouldn't have known as a child, for example: Covid, iPad, technology etc.

Computing

The girls were introduced to spreadsheets and learnt how they can be used to record and calculate information.
