Year 5 Newsletter

Week ending Friday 20th January, 2023

This week pupils have used the plot of the class novel to write a short story of their own. They have explored the features of a short story and have incorporated a variety of sentence starters and types, adjectives and adverbs to describe and literary devices which create imagery, thereby, engaging the reader.

In Maths, they continued working on Fractions, solving one and two step word problems which involve the multiplication of whole numbers and mixed numbers and dividing a fraction by a whole number.

In Art, pupils continued work started on Fingerprint, looking at and describing fingerprint patterns.

In RE they explored the concept of their "essence" being the nature or the most important qualities they possess. They explained how these qualities are portrayed to others.

Pupils participated in their second Equalities session, exploring the concept of "stereotyping" through examples. They understand why stereotypical viewpoints are wrong.
