This Week...

English

Charlotte's Web

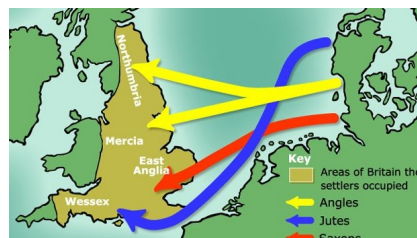

The girls continued writing the persuasive letter using a variety of persuasive techniques. They pretended to be Fern asking Mr Zuckerman to spare Wilber's life.

Mathematics

We learnt about converting periods of time this week: converting minutes to seconds, hours to minutes, years to months, weeks to days and solving problems on duration of time.

History

We explored the origins of English as we speak it today. We learnt that English emerged from the dialects and vocabulary of Germanic peoples—Angles, Saxons, and Jutes—who settled in Britain in the 5th century. English today is a constantly changing language that has been influenced by different cultures and languages, such as Latin, French and Dutch.

Religious Education

We learnt about the Universal Declaration of the Rights of the Child and related this to how Jews obey the Laws given by God.

Computing

We voted on our favourite ice creams and used the data to compile a table that we then used to generate a graph.
