Year 5 Newsletter

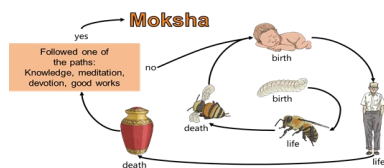

Week ending Friday 9th June, 2023

This week, pupils were introduced to their new reading text: The Giant's Necklace. Using the front cover, they made predictions about the text. They also read a synopsis of the story, after which, they edited their predictions. Pupils also wrote a description of a seaside setting. In addition, they enjoyed a 45-minute Zoom webinar with Nazneen Ahmed Pathak, a British-Bangladeshi writer, historian and artist, who read to them from her new book: City of Stolen Magic.

In Maths, they calculated angles in rhombuses and parallelograms. Using the properties for each polygon, pupils calculated unknown angles. Pupils also used a protractor, ruler and set square to draw triangles with given measurements.

In Computing, they designed a comic page using the SMARRAT rules. This activity served to reinforce the responsibilities that they have and the support they can find when online.

Pupils explored the concepts of Karma, Moksha and Samsara in our RE on Hinduism.
