Cultural Heritage Week:

This week, the girls have explored their family heritages through researching at home and at school using the Atlas. They worked hard to compile a fact file about England and another country/continent their heritage is from. This activity was inspired by the book Two Countries, One Me - Where am I from? By Bridget Yiadom.

In groups, the girls also enjoyed predicting and inferring the illustrative book cover and answering key questions about the book. The girls also brought in a special object which reminds of them of their family heritage in another country.
