Exploring an Ancient Egyptian tomb!

The girls had a great time exploring our music studio which was transformed into an Egyptian tombs full of Ancient Egyptian artefacts. Before they stepped into the tomb, the girls learned about the story of when Howard Carter, an archaeologist and his team discovered the tomb of the Pharaoh Tutankhamun. To explore the tomb, the girls used torches and magnifying to uncover the mysterious artefacts that were placed around the tomb.

This experience was then linked to our English and Art lessons. In English, the girls have started writing a recount about their time in the tomb. They have also learnt a new Alan Peat sentence called verb, person sentence. In Art, the girls learnt about a special artist called Bridget Riley, who after her visit to the Valley of the Kings in Egypt, created an Egyptian palette and patterns using stripes. They then created some death mask designs inspired by the works of Bridget Riley. Next week, they will be choosing one and creating an A3 death mask.
