Aspirations, Expectations, No Excuses

This Week...

English Charlotte's Webb

*Dear Uncle Homer,
I am writing to you to beg you to spare the life of my best friend. Please don't kill my beloved Wilbur! He may look like a farm animal to you but really he is an especially fantastic pig: a delightful, warm-hearted and*

The girls wrote a persuasive letter as Fern asking Mr Zuckerman to spare Wilbur's life. They learnt about structuring a letter with an opening statement, presenting their arguments by employing persuasive sentence starters and ending with a conclusion.

Mathematics

We looked at multiplying multiples of 10, 2-digit numbers without renaming, 2-digit numbers with renaming, multiples of 100 and 3-digit numbers with renaming.

History and Geography

The girls learnt about the importance of Roman baths and their crucial role in Roman culture. We then explored the reasons for the invasion by the Angles, Saxons, Jutes and Picts after the departure of the Romans and linked the chronological history to a timeline.

Art & Design

The girls designed a mosaic based on their experiences from Butser Ancient Farm.

PSHE

We discussed how we can inadvertently make incorrect assumptions about other people - this judgement can affect our view of them.
