Winterbourne Junior Girls' School

Year 6 Newsletter 15

Week ending: Friday, 12th January 2024

Our New text this half-term is 'The Wolves of Willoughby Chase' by Joan Aiken.

This week, the girls have explored the text with a particular focus on the vocabulary that the author has used to enhance the meaning.

In Writing, they have written a description from Miss Slighcarp's perspective which helped them to improve their vocabulary choices.

In Art this Week, we linked our learning to our History research, exploring art and artistic techniques during different time periods. We then explored contour art skills, recognising how we can apply that to observational drawings. We drew our hands ensuring to pay close attention to the finer details.

In PSHE this week, We looked at the Equality Act 2010, and some of the protected characteristics.

The girls explored how differences can be both a source of conflict and celebration. They acted out different scenarios in their groups, and created freeze frames to show the conflict and the resolution.
