Aspirations, Expectations, No Excuses

Value - Honesty

HONESTY

Honest hearts produce honest actions.

—Brigham Young

This Week...

English

We have started our new book SeaBEAN. It is science –fiction. We have been investigating how the story is written and how it is set on the real island St. Kilda. The girls were fascinated by the fact that St. Kilda was evacuated nearly 100 years ago.

Mathematics

We have started to learn about measures. We have looked at length, mass and volume. We have been learning how to convert kg to g and visa versa. Encourage your children to look at mass and volumes of objects in the home so that they have a better understanding of these areas.

Geography

This week the girls explored trains from around the world. They saw the Puffing Billy Train from Australia, The Inca Train from South America and the Rocky Mountain Train from Canada.

Art.

In art, the children studied the changes in the appearance of trains. They then sketch their ideas of what trains of the future might look like.

PSHE

We looked at the emotion of jealousy and how we can turn this negative emotion around. One of the most important strategies is to talk about our feelings.

RE

We discussed when we think the right age might be for anyone to make a cup of tea, open a bank account or ride our bike to school on our own. The girls were very sensible and put realistic ages on these events.

Tuesday 23rd is St Georges Day.

The girls need to find out who he was his flag and his flower.
