Week ending: Friday 23rd May 2025

Aspirations, Expectations, No Excuses

This Week...

English

We edited and improved our writing for our sci-fi story. We then presented it neatly in our best cursive handwriting. We ended the week with a reading assessment. Ask your daughter how it went.

Mathematics

We reviewed and applied our knowledge of mass, volume and length to solve word problems. The girls have now started to learn about various strategies to find the perimeter of polygon shapes. The girls participated in a MTC Cup competition and the proud winners are WJGS.

RE

The girls learnt about the role of religious leaders in their place of worship. They looked at how these religious leaders are similar and how they help their communities,

History

We used historical sources to explore how different ancient civilisations enjoyed honey. We discovered primary sources that provided evidence on how honey was produced. Also, we investigated secondary sources to find out how honey was used, such as for treats and ritual offerings.
