Aspirations, Expectations, No Excuses

This Week...

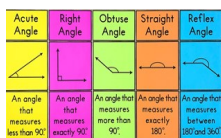

English:

The girls concluded their work about creating a leaflet on protecting our oceans and the marine life.

They have started to edit and improve their writing. Also they are deciding which images will best suit their writing.

Mathematics

In Mathematics this week we reviewed our learning and started our topic on angles. Look around the environment and see if you can identify any angles. Also, the girls have now completed the government times table checker known as the MTC.

Science

The girls learnt about the significance of nutrition and investigated the 4 major food groups. They then devised a healthy meal plate that included a portion of all the food groups. Ask your daughter what her meal plan was.

Geography

The girls researched the location of Europe in relation to the United Kingdom, on a world map. They used an atlas to explore the European countries and their capitals. They also used map symbols to identify the physical features of Europe

This week ...

The girls participated in a live paint-along session with the artist John Dyer, founder of Environmental Art Project, where they were provided with a creative opportunity.
