English:

This week, the girls were introduced to the well-known text The Three Little Pigs. They explored a range of adjectives to describe the appearance and character of the menacing wolf, helping to develop their descriptive writing skills. In addition, they were introduced to Alan Peat's 2A sentence structure, learning how to use two adjectives before a noun to enhance the quality of their sentences.

They also partitioned three digit numbers using the number bond method and part, part whole.

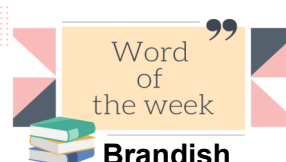

Next week, we are exploring place value in more detail, number patterns and counting in fifties.
